

Faith Shakti Heyliger

METAPHYSICAL POET

Writer | Editor | Performer | Producer
Founder @ Manifest Shakti

Manifest Shakti is a storytelling sanctuary where creativity, collaboration, and community are essential.

I specialize in poetic prose, performance, and production. I write, edit, produce, teach, and perform. I am also ordained. I empower fellow writers and creators to discover their unique greatness and achieve their creative goals. I unearth potential to allow authentic voices to resonate and resound. My clients feel seen, heard, and celebrated. Collaboration fuels my creativity.

Currently, I am Editor at Do It For the Cocktail Culture, working on a NYC Black History book. I am building a series, writing a novel, editing an inspirational manifesto, developing a poetry collection, brainstorming ideas for a tarot deck, and creating a curriculum on Self-Knowledge and Identity Formation rooted in the creative arts.

Artist in Residence at Byrdcliffe Art Colony 2016 – 2019

Collaborated with diverse artists on creative projects, including dancers, illustrators, musicians, and painters.
